

COOKIE POLICY

The specific purpose of this extended statement is to explain the types and methods of use, as well as to explain what actions you can take to refuse or delete cookies on the website simulator.enoplastic.com (the "Website").

1. Data controller and contact details

The data controller is Enoflex S.p.A., with registered office in Bodio Lomnago (VA), via Luigi Galvani 1, P.IVA and C.F. 13400560150 ("Enoflex" or the "Data controller").

The Data Protection Officer (DPO) appointed by Enoflex is LCA SERVIZI S.r.l., and can be reached at the following address: Via della Moscova 18, 20121, Milan, e-mail: dpo@lcalex.it.

2. Data collected

Navigation data and cookies (hereinafter also referred to as "Data").

3. What is a cookie

Cookies are small text strings that the Websites viWebsited by the user send to the user's terminal browser, where they are stored and then transmitted to the same Websites the next time the same user visits. While browsing a Website, the user may receive "first-party" cookies on his terminal, when they are managed directly by the Data Controller and/or operator of the Website, and also cookies that are sent by different Websites or web servers (so-called "third-party" cookies); this happens because the webWebsite viWebsited may contain elements that reside on servers other than the one on which the webWebsite is located. In other words, they are cookies that are set by a webWebsite other than the one you are currently visiting.

Cookies can be divided into three different types:

- Technical cookies: used for the sole purpose of enabling the Website to function properly;
- Analytical cookies: used to collect aggregate information of a mainly statistical nature;
- Profiling cookies: aimed at creating profiles on the user and used to send advertising messages in line with the preferences expressed by the user while browsing the web.

4. What cookies are used and for what purpose

With reference to the purposes pursued, the cookies present on the Website may be exclusively technical.

The Website uses the following cookies for the purposes set out below.

Technical cookies

The technical cookies present on the Website can be divided into: navigation or session cookies, which guarantee the normal navigation and use of the Website (allowing, for example, to make a purchase or log in to access restricted areas). These cookies include functionality cookies, which make it possible to memorise the choices made by the user on the Website (e.g. language) in order to improve the service provided to the user.

The prior consent of the users of the Website is not required for the installation of such cookies.

The Website uses the following technical cookies:

Cookie	Domain	Purpose	Duration
.AspNetCore.Antiforgery.ViGC8mW1eW8	simulator.enoplastic.com	Technical	session

Analytical Cookie

analytical cookies are those cookies used to gather, analyze and measure aggregated information about the user's activities on the Website.

The Website uses the following analytical cookies:

Cookie	Provide	Domain	Data processed	purpose of the processing	Duration	Personal data anonymization	Privacy policy
_ga	Google	simulator.enoplastic.com	impression	analytic	2 anni	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> SI <input type="checkbox"/> NO	[•]
_ga_2mkflwgwwm	Google	.enoplastic.com	impression	analytic	2 anni	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> SI <input type="checkbox"/> NO	[•]

5. Nature of data provision by users

The provision of Data processed through the installation of technical cookies, although optional, is necessary to ensure proper navigation within the Website. If you decide to disable technical cookies, you will not have access to many features that make this Website more efficient and some of our services will not function properly.

You can change your cookie preferences at any time by configuring your browser in accordance with the specific procedures described below. You can also use your browser preferences to delete cookies that have been installed in the past, including cookies for which you may have given your consent.

In addition, with regard to any third-party cookies, you may exercise your right to object to their processing by informing yourself through the third party's privacy policy, through the opt-out link if explicitly provided or by contacting the third party directly.

6. Options regarding the use of cookies

You can control cookies through your browser settings. As each browser has slightly different functions, you should check the "help" menu of your browser to find out how to correctly change your cookie settings.

You can then change your browser settings so that cookies are deleted or not stored on your computer or mobile device without your explicit consent. The following links will help you better understand how to set your browser:

7. Data recipients

The Data may be known and processed by the employees of the company functions of the Data Controller assigned to the pursuit of the above-mentioned purposes, who are expressly authorised to the processing and who have received adequate operating instructions.

Furthermore, the Data may be communicated to third parties - autonomous data controllers or duly designated as data processors - which belong to the following categories:

- A. external subjects operating as autonomous holders such as, by way of example, supervisory and control bodies and in general to subjects, including private ones, entitled to request the data (such as, for example, accounting consultants, legal consultants), Public Authorities who make an express request for administrative or institutional purposes, in accordance with the provisions of current national and European legislation;
- B. subjects outside the Data Controller who provide services to the same and who are useful for its activities (for example: suppliers of IT services for the management of databases, including contacts and e-mails, providers of digital services and IT consultants who provide technical assistance to the Data Controller, companies that offer support in carrying out market studies); these subjects have received a specific assignment as responsible for data processing and their names are available on request to the Data Controller, using the contact details indicated in Section 9 below.

8. Transfer of Personal Data to countries outside the European Union

Data collected on the Website will not be transferred outside the European Union.

Where this is the case, in relation to Data collected using cookies on the Website, the Data Controller will, to the extent of its competence, adopt appropriate safeguards, including applicable adequacy decisions and Standard Contractual Clauses adopted by the European Commission.

9. The rights of data subjects

Users, as data subjects (i.e., subjects to whom the Data refer), are holders of the rights conferred by the GDPR. In particular, pursuant to Articles 15-22 of the GDPR, data subjects have the right to request and obtain, at any time, access to their personal data, information on the processing carried out, rectification and/or updating of personal data, erasure and restriction of processing. They also have the right to object to the processing and to request data portability (i.e. to receive their personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format). Finally, data subjects always have the right to withdraw their consent at any time (this, in any case, will not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent given before the revocation) and to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (in Italy: the Garante per la Protezione dei Dati Personali).

The above-mentioned rights may be exercised at any time, by simple request to the Data Controller to be transmitted:

- by post, to the address via Luigi Galvani 1, 21020 Bodio Lomnago (VA), for the attention of the Human Resources Manager; or
- to the e-mail address privacy@enoplastic.com
